

LEARN AND LIVE!

Young, inexperienced personnel have a 60% chance of being injured in their first 6 months of employment. Geotech is here to help protect you!

Inexperienced Personnel - new to their duties they face increased risk because they're not familiar with the hazards.

Studies prove they have twice the injuries of experienced personnel. At Geotech we are 100% committed to protecting all our personnel, both inexperienced and experienced to ensure they don't become one of the statistics. We do this by training, education, PPE and other means necessary to protect our team.

By ensuring the crew knows who the inexperienced personnel are, these people "will not" be expected to:

- do their tasks as efficiently as an experienced worker might,
- know all safe work practices and procedures pertaining to the program,
- be familiar with operations, especially in an emergency, and
- understand the hazards and related dangers or how to avoid them.

Instead, experienced site personnel will:

- mentor to make sure they have reached task specific competency,
- buddy up in emergency situations, and
- encourage inexperienced personnel to ask questions, get feedback to gauge understanding - inexperienced personnel are reluctant to ask questions.
